STAR FIELD FOR FUTURITY.

GREATEST TWO-YEAR-OLDS IN AMER-ICA READY TO RACE TO-DAY.

opening of the Coney Island Jockey Club's Meeting to Be Signalized by a Classic Contest-Keene Candidates Backed to Beat the Cream of W. C. Whitney's Stable. The magio word "Futurity" will be a name conjure with to-day and its drawing power till be felt by every horseman in the State and many from remoter parts. America's most popular racing classic has rarely been patronby such a grand lot of thoroughbreds as that scheduled to meet at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon. Higher class horses may have on for it, although that is a debatable point. but the fact is assured that the issue has never been so open. As a guessing proposition totay's race is unique, even the owners and rainers being so puzzled that those having trings of two and three are likely to send all o the post. The appended list was compiled oter the weather broke yesterday and the oference is that the majority are willing to take chances in the soft going expected as a esuit of the rain yesterday morning and afernoon. Nearly all the trials, however, were brought off when the track was dry and fast, and this further complicates matters, but it nereases the uncertainty and interest. A singular feature of the event is that two of the three Keene candidates are by Domino, the "black whirlwind," who won the race in 1893 and landed something close to $50,000 for his owner, at a time when it was said to be needed badly. These are Olympian and Cap and Bells, but the hope of the Keene stable apparently is Tommy Atkins as Spencer, the senior jockey controlled by James Rowe, has selected the Masetto colt. It is not quite certain that Spencer had much of a choice in the matter, but he is just the artist to make Tommy show his best paces, and that is probably the reason why he is named to ride the noted young relative of Maximo Gomez. O'Connor on Cap and Bells will probably be out among the pacemakers in the first half and from there home will take a lot of catching. But the fortunate jockey of the Keene combination is supposed o be Henry, who is slated to ride Olympian. This colt showed at Brighton Beach that he could hold his own with Commando, and he has a pronounced advantage in the weights not only over his stable companions but several less friendly rivals. The Keene stable has two Domino maidens, Noonday and Spry in reserve and may add one or both, but this will make little difference to speculative visitors as all starters in the "white and bine dots" will be grouped in the betting.

The combination most fanoled, outside that of the Keenes, is W. C. Whitney's pair, Ballyhoo Bey and Elkhorn. The former, a magnificent-looking colt by Kingston—Ballyhoo, gets in at the malden scale of 112 pounds, and has shown such form in private that Tod Sloan was brought over from England especially to ride him. No horse entered has worked more satisfactorily than this colt, and it goes without saying that John E. Madden will send him to the post fit to run for a king's ransom. The other Whitney candidate. Elkhorn, has shown his quality several times in public, and the stable will be so well represented that the only source of regret among horsemen is that the owner cannot be present at the race. It is understood that W. C. Whitney is on his way from England, but there is little chance of his being on the scene in time.

Green B. Morris is represented by a formidin reserve and may add one or both, but this

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—The principal event of the brogramme to day at Highland Park was the five furious all age selling affair, to be run in hests. R. Q. Ban, who was made a favorite, had no difficulty in winning the first heat. In the second he was pocketed right at the start, and at every attempt to break through was interfered with by J. Paly, who was upon Glad Hand. This interference ledge a personal encounter between Daly and Coburn, Ban's rider, and resulted in Coburn lashing Daly with his riding whip. It was an off day for favorites and nearly as bad for long shorts. Well played second cholees ruled throughout. Summary:

LIGHT CROWD AT SARATOGA. Only One Favorite Wins-Burns and Boland Each Ride Two Winners.

SARATOGA, Aug. 24.-The greater part of the New York delegation left here last night for Sheepshead Bay and the attendance at the track did not number 1,500, while in the ring only sixteen of the Metropolitan Club members remained. The layers had no cause for complaint, however, as it was not until the last race that a favorite was successful. John McCafferty and P. and P. Randolph each gathered in two races, while Burns and Boland each landed two winners. Randolph's horses won the first and fourth races, both for maiden two-year-olds. The first race was for fillies and eight ran. Guesswork was favorite with Luck and Taveta well backed. Luck, Randolph's entry, got a flying start with the others strung out Luck led all the way and won easily from Kid. Waterplant carried Randolph's colors in the fourth race. Cogswell was the favorite with Kings Favorite next. Punctual made the running for half a mile, where Waterplant went to the front and won by a length and a half in a drive. Tyrshena was backed down to 7 to 5 to win the second race, but after running prominently for half a mile she bled and had to be pulled up. After Kunza had led until well into the stretch, Koenig, carrying McCafferty's colors, won easily by three lengths from Godfrey. Prejudice won the third race, making the two straight for McCafferty. Mechanus looked the best on form und was backed from even money to 7 to 10. He never figured in the race and finished fourth. Ralston and Prejudice aread together to the stretch, where Prejudice drew out and got home the winner by a length in a hard drive. Intrusive looked the best in the last race, for which he was the favorite, and after leading all the way he won easily by a length and a half from King Bramble. John McCafferty has sold Hy Lo to Albert Simons and The Jade to M. J. Daly. Summary: Punctual made the running for half a mile, where

At Windsor.

Windsor. Aug. 24.—A surprise was sprung in the very opening race when little Jack Martin landed Free Admission, a 6 to 1 shot, the winner of the race and not one of the favorities got inside the money. The speculators who plunged on Julia Rose at 15 to 1 for the place made a big killing. Another favoritie went down when Symoopated Sandy failed to win and still another when Panny Taylor was beaten out of the big end of the purse and place in the mile-and-asixteenth race. RECORD BREAKING AT READVILLE. Pacer Anaconda Beats the Track Figures of Final Day of Grand Circuit Meet.

Boston, Aug. 24.—The Grand Circuit meet-ing at Readville was brought to a close this afternoon. The big event on the card was the 2:04 pace, which brought out Searchlight Chehalis, Frank Bogash and Anaconda. The latter proved to be the best of the lot and paced a record breaking mile in the second and deciding heat. The performance was a most sensational one and when Starter Walker announced that Anaconda had gone the mile in 2:02%, three quarters of a second better than his previous record made at the Empire City track las year against Lady of the Manor and almost two seconds better than the best paged mile ever made on the Readville track in a race, the spectators gave a shout of applause.

The new record, which is the second fastest mile made in a race this year was established under conditions not very favorable. Several showers had fallen and the dirt in the track had tendency to retard the horses by stick ing to the rubber tires. Frank Bogash forced Anaconda all the way around the track and uptil they turned on the homestretch, when the gelding fairly leaped away from the second 30% seconds, for the second quarter, 30% seconds or 1:01 for the half; 30% seconds for the third 30% seconds, for the second quarter, 30% seconds or 1:01 for the half; 30% seconds for the third quarter, or 1:31% for the three-quarters of a mile, and 31% seconds for the final quarter. There were three other good events on the were three other good events on the card, notably the 2:08 trot in which Arion made his reappearance on the track after being in retirement for six years. Arion made a good showing for the first half, but after that he was unable to keep the pace that was set by Grattan Boy and Charley Herr and finished third in the first heat. In the second heat Arion was last to come under the wire and did not come up for the word in the third heat. Grattan Boy was the favorite, while Charley Herr went begging at $25 against $1.78 for the field. Grattan Boy took the first heat handly, but Charley Herr proved such a strong finisher that the odds were speedily reduced. Charley Herr took the second and third heats with time to spare.

There was a field of eight starters out for the $1.500 offered in the 2:12 trot and again a favorite Onward Silver, was beaten out. The first three heats were split up between Temple Wilkes, Onward Silver and York Boy. In the fourth heat York Boy took the lead at the first turn, after Onward Silver had gone into the air and won first money easily. Stacker Taylor was the favorite for the 2:12 pace and made good by getting the three heats. The summary:

On the Lake Erie Circuit.

WELLESVILLE, Aug. 24.—The last day of the Lake Eric Circuit races brought out a fine card and a large attendance. Harold H. sold favorite in the 2:20 page and the field had strong support in Version and Walter R., but the favorite won out in three straight heats. In the 2:30 trot Myrtle Wedge was the only favorite to lose in the four days' racing and it was a hard fight with Silk Lace taking the first heat and Myrtle the next two, finishing nose and nose under the wire. In the figh heat Myrtle Wedge came in first, but broke under the wire and was set back. Summaries:

BLOCK ISLAND. R. I., Aug. 24.-The schooner Shamrock, owned by W. P. Ward of New York, struck on the outer end of the sunken breakwater about 8 o'clock last night. She was floated at 5:30 o'clock this morning by the assistance of the Uriah B. Dodge and the crew of the New Shoreham life saving station. The end of the breakwater was sunk in November by a hurricane. This misled the skipper of the yacht. The vessel has gone to Newport to be repaired. She was not leaking.

MINEOLA WINS FINAL RACE.

THE TO-FOOTERS SAIL IN A HARD WIND OFF NEWPORT.

Yankee Finishes Second and Scores One More Point in the Series Than the Belmont Boat -Winner of the Cup Hangs on the Protests -Accident to Virginia's Club Topsail. NEWPORT, Aug. 24 .- The final race in the series for the cup offered by the Newport Yacht Racing Association for the 70-footers was sailed to-day and was won by the Mineola, with the Yankee second. It was a most excit-ing race and was sailed under conditions somewhat similar to the memorable race of July when all the boats were so badly strained It blew very hard from the south and at times severe squalls were experienced; the sea was high, but the rain, which at times fell in torrents, beat it down. Had it not been for that, the yachts would have had a very nasty time

The Regatta Committee does not announce to-night which wins the cup on points, preerring to wait until the protests filed are settled, which will probably be to-morrow morning. Without the protests figuring in the matter the boats stand as follows: Yankee, 11; Mineols, 10; Rainbow, 8; Virginia, 1. If no pro-tests are allowed the Yankee gets the $1,000 cup by one point over the Mineola. In case protest is decided against her it will tie her with the Mineola, and the two will have to race to settle it.

The race was not without incident. Just before the start an accident happened on the Virginia which might have proved serious. The yacht was out by the lightship and was ending her club topsall aloft. When it was about half way up it got away and came down with a rush to the deck. Very luckily the sending her club topsail aloft. When it was about half way up it got away and came down with a rush to the deck. Very luckily the yacht was heeled over to port, and the topsail dime sliding down in the belly of the mainsail, preventing any damage being done. Had she been on an even keel the topsail yard would have gone probably through her deck and possibly her bottom, and some of the crew might have been hurt. It was this way that the Defender's topsail came down last year when off this port and the spar went through her deck. The other accident was of slight importance in that it did not mar the race, it being the unshiping of the jaws of the Mineola's gaff on the last leg of the course.

Early, in the morning the chances for a race were poor. It was threatening overhead and there was little wind. About 9 o'clock a breeze came out from the southeast, and as the morning advanced it increased in force and when the yachts got outside it was blowing hard. There was a question as to whether the race would be started, but the owners finally agreed that they would sail. The start for the lightship was made about 10:30.

Mr. Cornelius Vanderblit had quite a little party on board the Rainbow. They were Mrs. Vanderblit, Mrs. Stuyvesant. Fish, Marquise De La Sandera and James DeWolfe Cutting. On the Virginia were Arthur T. Kemp and Richard Peters.

When the committee boat Mirage got out to the lightship the wind had shifted to almost due south, and code flag D was set indicating that the course would be the triangle, the first leg 5½ miles dead to windward, with a reach for the other two legs. After the accident to the Virginia she set her working topsail and carried it throughout the first round.

The warning signal was made at 11:45, and the starting signal was made at the colon. There was some manceuvring for the start, during which the Mineola and Yankee kept severely apart. The fight for position was between the Rainbow and Mineola, in which Capt. Parker was too much for Capt. Wringe, Just as the starting signal wa rounded not have an accessed in the portions and headed for the Narragansett shore. She made a poor start, as she lost much of her headwa.

The Rainbow had the Mineola where she wanted her, but as soon as they went about on the port tack the Mineola footed a little faster. All the boats headed in shore, and had not been started ten minutes when a severe squall struck them and they listed over so that the water was almost up to the mast. It rained so hard that from the committee boat not one of the racers could be made out. The yachts worked to windward very fast. Having a smaller topsail the Virginia could carry her baby jib topsail, but she made a poor showing on the wind compared with the other boats. The yachts would jump from sea to sea, and come down with a splash that sent the sea flying all around them. The boat at the outer mark had got adrift and the stake boat had to take its place. The Mineola and Rainbow had reckoned well and when the mark was seen they laid their course for it. The Virginia and Yankee overstood considerably and lost time in doing so. The

Rainbow ... 12 49 01 Yankee 12 57 25

The Mineola made the best time on the wind and beat the Rainbow by 59 seconds and the Yankee by nearly 4 minutes. So far it was the Mineola's race and it was now a question which boat would be second. At this mark the Rainbow led the Yankee by nearly 3 minutes, which meant that the Yankee had gained on her as at the start there was over 4 minutes' difference.

The yaohts rounded the mark on the starboard tack, eased off their sheets and setting jib topsails started on a run for the second mark. Here the Rainbow got a fast streak and cut down the Mineola's lead by 12 seconds. The Rainbow made the best time for the 5½ miles run and covered the distance in 25 minutes and 19 seconds. The yachts gybed around the second mark in the following order:

| Flapsed | Flap Rainbowi 55 25 1 40 15 Yankee 1 45 51 1 44 05

The Mineola was ahead by nearly a minute and the Rainbow was over three minutes ahead of the Yankee. The Virginia tried to send her club topsail up but did not succeed and she withdrew from the race and returned to the harbor. Some allowance must be made for the Virginia as she had a green crew on board, just shipped before the race, and they were not accustomed to the boat. On the wind the Yankee sailed like a witch, and although she overstood somewhat at the mark she gained on all the boats and made the fastest time for the leg by over two minutes. The boats made heavy weather of it and all on board were wet to the skin. At the outer mark this time the yachts rounded as follows:

Rain Prevents the Finish of the National Tour-

NORWICH, Aug. 24.-Rain interfered with the roque players here to-day, badly washing several of the courts and in consequence the national tournament was not concluded tonight as it should have been. Only a few games were played and first and second places are still in doubt. Williams got a set-back by losing a game to Denison, the Californian, who kept the champion neatly tied up and won without difficulty by 15 points. Veasey lost another game this afternoon, Wahiy showing him the way home in the fast time of 40 min utes. Veasey has only one more game to play, which will be with Bryant, and he ought to win it. Williams has yet to meet Strong, who has only played about half his games Among the leaders whom the latter will play against are Chamtion Williams and Jacobus, which are Champion Williams and Jacobus, which insures two hard-fought contests to-morrow. The game with Strong will complete the list for Jacobus.

In the contest for the Van Wickle badge, Duryea and Strong have each won three games, and the other will be played later, probably next week in this city. The positions in the second division will be decided to-morrow. A. L. Williams will win in the third, as he has not lost a game. At a business meeting to-day Samuel Dudley of New London resigned as President of the National Association and Frank H. Morris of Washington was elected to succeed him. The scores:

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

President Sams's Views on the L

The rebellious behavior of the New York State division in regard to the proposal to abolish the several divisions of the League of American Wheelmen has had its natural sequel in arousing the national executives and Secretary Abbott Bassett, who was plainly indicated in the talk of "one-man power." Chief Consul Belding has received a letter from Secretary Bassett, the contents of which he refuses to make public. Enough has leaked out, however, from fellow officers who have seen the letter to make it plain that the Secretary plainly make public. Enough has leaked out, however, from fellow officers who have seen the letter to make it plain that the Secretary plainly states a case of "needing the money." Yesterday the Chief Consul received the following very diplomatic letter from the President of the League, Conway W. Sams of Baltimore, who is a lawyer.

"WY DEAR BELDING: I have read your interview in THE SUN of Aug. 21. Of course, you understand that the Revision Committee will meet in New York on Aug. 31. I will be at the Astor House and will be in New York and day. I shall be very glad to see you and have a talk with you then. I understand that the committee will have a final draft of the proposed changes at that time. You are doubtless aware that there is a movement on foot to have a special meeting of the assembly to act upon the report of the Revision Committee as soon as it is completed. A resolution of the New Jersey division started this movement, After giving the suggestion my most careful consideration I have made up my mind that there is no special advantage of having an extra session, for two reasons; First, the cost of a special session both to the divisions and the national body; secondly, because these proposed changes should have our most careful study. I intend to ask the Executive Committee to publish in the magazine, part at a time, all the proposed changes, so that the membership at large can have an opportunity to study the changes.

It will be most ill-advised in my judgment to throw into the assembly a new constitution and by-laws without first giving the subject the most careful thought. I hope that you agree with me in this. I have a draft of the proposed amended constitution, which I have read, but I am unable to say at this time the regular meeting of the assembly. Your views upon this subject are particularly desired. I might say, that for only way to understand the matter thorought in an advantage, to an an intended his dearly of the divisions. In some instance, perhaps, this might be an advantage, but in the l
